Contract-to-Hire: Palace Gate Corporation provides contract-to-hire services for its clients' convenience. In today's employment market, companies often prefer to bring potential new employees into the organization on a contract-to-hire basis. This offers both the client and the consultant the opportunity to better understand the working relationship prior to entering into a full-time employment relationship. It may also be the case that a consultant becomes an integral part of the project team while working on an engagement. In these cases Palace Gate Corporation will allow clients to hire a consultant on a full-time basis.

Full-time placement: This is a valuable addition that is offered to clients based on individual client need. While providing consulting services to clients, Palace Gate Corporation becomes an "expert" on its environment and IT needs. As experts on available technical resources, Palace Gate Corporation can provide full-time placement as well as consulting services.

Consulting Services: Palace Gate Corporation recruits individuals and teams for its clients' project needs. By implementing a customer driven consulting model, Palace Gate Corporation partners with its clients to provide resources based on the clients' criteria. This approach enables Palace Gate Corporation to provide solutions to its clients' specific needs while clientele retain control of their projects.

Partner Services: In an effort to fully understand the clients' needs, Palace Gate Corporation will often uncover opportunities with partner firms. By utilizing close partnerships with a premier Web Development agency and an Information Security firm, Palace Gate Corporation provides clientele with access to additional services and opportunities to enhance its business.

In today's market, business is increasingly driven by the Internet which creates a greater need for Information Security. Through partnerships with some of Chicago's finest Information Security and Web Development firms, Palace Gate Corporation is able to optimize its clients' Web presence while improving usability of its online resources. Whether the need is to drive more business to clients' Web sites, enhance a clients' Intranet or ensure internal and external Information Security, Palace Gate Corporation will provide the right solution.
